Regina REALTORS® Honour one of their own with REALTOR® of the Year Award

Regina, Saskatchewan What qualities make an outstanding REALTOR®? Well in the case of this year's REALTOR® of the Year, it's a combination of outstanding leadership and professionalism combined with a dedication to community and family.

The Association of Regina REALTORS® Inc. (ARR) is pleased to award the 2018 REALTOR® of the Year, sponsored by Canadian Housing and Mortgage Corporation (CMHC), to Regina REALTOR® Justus Smith. Smith has been an ARR member for over a decade, and in that time has committed himself to extensive professional development and has spent countless hours volunteering for the ARR on a variety of committees and task forces, including Provincial Technology, Professional Standards, Discipline, Nominations and Board Recruitment.

"The more I can do to better myself through professional development and involvement with the real estate community, the better I am able to serve my clients. I feel privileged that they trust me to help with one of the biggest transactions of their lives," says Smith. "It's an honour to be part of this industry, and to be recognized by my peers with this award."

Outside of real estate, Justus plays the role of husband and father to two, and volunteers within his community as President of Boothill Community Association, and as a member of the Housing Advisory Committee for Regina Region Local Immigration Partnership. Adds Smith, "I think it's important that everyone plays a role in ensuring our community remains a great place to live – I'm happy to play my part in that."

Adds Dave Markus, ARR President, "Justus is a positive example of what commitment to the real estate community looks like, and what we can achieve when we work together. His ongoing dedication to the real estate profession, his family and this community are an inspiration to us all."
