REGINA, March 13, 2018 – The Association of Regina REALTORS® Inc. (ARR) has announced the two local University of Regina (U of R) students who are this year's recipients of the Association of Regina REALTORS® Inc. Scholarships.

Jae Won Hur and Mitchell Thatcher, both Campbell Collegiate alumni and current U of R students, were recognized by Regina REALTORS® for their strong academic standing and demonstrated ability in areas such as leadership, athletics, and fine arts.

The Association of Regina REALTORS® Inc. Scholarships, a $1,000 scholarship presented to two Regina natives attending U of R, was developed in 1977 as a means of providing financial support to local students with excellent academic and extracurricular contributions who are pursuing a higher level of education within the community.

Jae Won Hur is completing his Bachelor of Business Administration degree at the U of R with plans to attend law school at the University of Toronto in September. When Hur isn't studying, he is an avid basketball fan and a talented communicator. He remains active on-campus where he spends his spare time journalizing for the school and competing with the Paul J. Hill School of Business JDC West debate team.

Mitchell Thatcher is nearing the end of his third year at U of R studying a Bachelor of Science with dreams of pursuing medicine while staying true to his roots in Western Canada. Mitchell is passionate about skiing and incorporates his passions into both the U of R and local communities as the President of the U of R Ski Club and working as a youth ski instructor.

Both recipients voiced their genuine gratitude towards the Association for the scholarship which will provide them with the opportunity to focus on maintaining competitive grades and being involved in extra curriculars.

"Juggling extra curriculars activities as well as keeping a competitive GPA (grade point average) can be very difficult," Thatcher sincerely expressed, "having some of that financial burden relieved through the scholarship is a big plus. I am very excited to receive the scholarship."

"By having [the Scholarship] at my disposal and having opportunities like this with great organizations such as the Association of Regina Realtors," stated Hur, "it's a great way to alleviate some of the financial stresses and focus on the things I love to do."

The Regina REALTORS® Association is a proud supporter of the Regina community. For more information regarding The Association of Regina REALTORS® Inc. Scholarships and other Community Partners Support please see www.reginarealtors.com.
